Montclair Center BID Announces Events for 2019

The Montclair Center BID announced a full schedule of events for 2019, activating and energizing downtown with music, family activities and shopping specials.

“Our events have become a highlight of the Montclair calendar,” said Jason Gleason, board president of the Montclair Center BID. “We are looking forward to welcoming everyone to what’s going on downtown.”

“It’s going to be another exciting year in downtown Montclair,” said Jennifer Brown, Montclair Center BID executive director. “In addition to our renowned Center Stage music presentations every Saturday night on Church Street throughout the summer we have a full schedule of dynamic programs, showcasing all that Montclair Center has to offer.”

Other events will be announced throughout the year.

Mar. 5-10

Women’s Empowerment Week

Montclair Center BID businesses will be presenting free talks and workshops throughout the week.

Thursday, May 2
